“ In 1991, we purchased a house on the Wicomico River not far from Stuart and Marion. We were city folks, at the time from Washington, DC. Marion and Stuart were the first neighbors to welcome us. They introduced us to country life. We spent countless hours with them at their house and ours and dining at Cap't John's, Wilkerson's in Colonial Beach and various places in LaPlata and twice visited their home in Punta Gorda. Over the years, we became close friends. We mourned with Marion following Stuart's death and, even after selling our house in 2008, remained in close contact with Marion. Even after we moved to Florida in 2015, we visited Marion on our return trips to DC. Marion was very smart, had a wonderful sense of humor and a most amazing ability to remember the most minute details from her past. But, most of all, she was a caring, generous and kind person. We consider ourselves fortunate and honored to have known Stuart and Marion and shall miss them both always. We only learned recently of Marion's passing. We send our deepest sympathies to her family.

“ Awww, Miss Daisy, I will always treasure the memories made with you (and there are 9 years worth!) It certainly was a ride when we were together! I'll never forget trying to get to your family reunions and you couldn't remember how to get there, then going through that toll 4 times and having to turn around each time! (-) I'm so glad we had enough money on us between us!

Then there were the geese. Canadian geese and their new goslings were crossing a 3-lane highway and the goslings couldn't make it up the curb. I stop the car, turn the flashers on and get out to try and catch the goslings to get them over the curb. Next thing we know, the city Police pull up with their lights on, then the County police, and then the state! We were all trying to catch those babies, all the while the parents are just honking away! It was a sight to behold, I'm sure! You were so afraid we were going to be ticketed! (-)

Marion, it's memories like these that will always hold you dear to me. May you rest in peace, Miss Daisy. This is not goodbye - it's I'll see you later. I love you and will never forget you.
