

Ann Therese O'Boyle

June 25, 1937 - February 27, 2018

Ann Therese O'Boyle, Waldorf, Maryland, died in the Hands of the Lord on February 27, at Charles Co. Regional Hospital, surrounded by her loving family, following complications from chronic respiratory problems, Ann was a retired nurse and a valued member of a large Irish American family.

Born in 1937, in Scranton, Pennsylvania, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James P. O'Boyle, Ann was educated at St. Mary School, Dunmore, at St. Paul's High School and the Mercy Hospital School of Nursing, Scranton.

Ann was a dedicated nurse , working at the Maryland Veterans Hospital and in the ER at Southern Maryland Hospital, Clinton, where she established many close friendships. In retirement she did a variety of volunteer work ranging from health-care assessments at St. Peter's Church, Waldorf, to tutoring recent immigrants. She was a long-time member of her parish prayer group, whose friendships she valued greatly.

Ann said that her greatest contribution though was her total involvement with her large extended family, scattered from Virginia to Pennsylvania and Connecticut,. Ann had 98 nephews and nieces and knew the life story of each one. She followed the careers of each and was the official family biographer and presider at numerous family reunions. She was indispensable at annual family vacations at lake and shore, adding to the merriment with Irish wit and family tales from the past.

She leaves two cherished sisters, Margaret Kelley, Harding, Pennsylvania, and Marie Fanning and her husband William Fanning, Alexandria, Virginia, and her brother, James O'Boyle, Windsor Locks, Connecticut. Also, surviving are her close-knit and beloved nephews and nieces.

Ann's family would like to thank the dedicated third floor staff at Charles Co. Regional and all who supported her through years of medical problems. Special thanks to two cherished friends, Kathy Kamrath, Easton, Maryland, and Cindie O'Brien, R.N. and her husband Tom, of LaPlata, as well as good neighbors Karen Allison and Rhoie and Felicity Manney and Elaine Stewart.

“ Ann and I met more than 25 years ago when we worked together at Group Health Association in Marlow Heights, MD. As soon as we met, I liked her; she was just one of those people! She was a very capable and caring nurse.

Although I considered her a very good friend, we didn't see one another very often. However, fortunately, within the last 6 months, we got together twice - in August for my husband, Bob's 80th birthday and again on December 23rd for a dinner here at our home. Both times, we also invited our friends, the Fortalezas - a wonderful Christian family with 3 children (16, 14 and 7). Everyone knows how much Ann loved kids and by the end of the first evening, she said, "I feel like I've made five new friends!" She loved the fact that they embraced their faith with their children. They played their instruments and we sang with them. I think these were very special times for all of us.

Ann adored her family and loved having so many nieces and nephews. She mentioned a recent visit from two nieces who came and spent the weekend with her; it meant the world to her.

Losing Ann makes me realize how important it is to take the time, more often, to be with our friends - if not physically but at least through a phone call or note.

God bless you all in your loss!
