“ Anne was the funniest woman I ever met. She had the ability to make your day better. I loved doing impressions with her and talking about Jon Stewart. I wish I'd of stopped by to see you, I'm very sorry you had to leave. I will remember you.

“ Anne was a very beautiful woman. We used to say she was Elizabeth Taylor ...with her porcelain skin and eyes. She had a huge personality and a wicked sense of humor that made us laugh out loud. We know that she loved her family very much. Our condolences to Sammy and Erich.....and to Stacey (Anne's Fan page is amazing), Bob...and the many other friends that will miss her gritty, irrepressible wit. We are so sorry for your loss. “ Anne and I were best friends for a long time there. In high school we had a blast in the drama club. WE were roommates for a while and she was one of my brides maids. We had our differences and we had more than our share of fights. We were just like sisters. I have loved her for such a long time and I still do. I wish could have seen her one last time. She will be missed terribly. I have many memories of Anne but I can't share them on social media....put it this way we were a crazy pair....

“ It's not often you find someone that you just have that instant connection with, and Anne was that person. One of my dearest online friends, I'm glad we got the chance to meet in person at least once and I miss you terribly.

“ anne struggled in some ways in life, like so many of us, and reminded me of the strength and humility it takes to keep coming back when it seems like things just don't work out your way. I was always impressed with her humor, love of life, and willingness to do pretty much anything crazy. her energy touched this earth and has only changed form. she is not gone, just in a different place.

“ Anne was a gentle soul with a big heart. She always had a smile on her face and was very welcoming to the ones she did not know yet. Keep smiling honey. Condolences to the rest of her family and friends...and enjoy the "big meeting" in the sky!!

“ It was an honor to trudge the road of Happy Destiny side by side Anne. When you told me that I was going to teach you how to "be a lady" I thought that was so touching and hilarious too, and at the same time-I knew you were kidding and sincere as well. You touched so many hearts and lives with the true you that came through all your kidding around-online and off. I love you Anne, you brought out the best in me. See you when I get there. Rest in Peace

“ So very few people in my life have made me stop and go WHOA upon meeting them for the first time, even virtually. This was the case with Anne, I'm sure those who know her will agree that she shone brightly, and is blinding those around her now. Her presence on Earth will be sorely missed, but never forgotten.

“ Anne brought fun and laughter to me. She had a quick wit and her self deprecating humor won me over. I will really miss her and was hoping she would be one of those forever friends in my life. She touched my heart and will be sadly missed. My prayers and thoughts go out to Erich, Sam, Bob, Monique, and the rest of her family. Her life was too short, she was too sweet, and again we will meet.
