

Elizabeth Lavin

January 8, 1935 - June 29, 2010

ELIZABETH (GRAMPP) LAVIN, 75

Elizabeth (Betty) Lavin was born Elizabeth Popilock on Jan 8, 1935, in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. In 1955 she married Donald Grampp and they moved to his home in Buffalo, New York to start their family. They later relocated to Liberty, Missouri, where they raised their two sons, Donald and Eric. Her husband Donald passed away in 1982. Ten years later she was reunited with her former high school sweetheart, Lt Col Joseph Lavin, USMC (Retired), also from Philadelphia. They were married in 1991 and settled in “almost heaven” Wildwood, New Jersey, where they enjoyed ten happy years together until his death in 2001.

Elizabeth (Betty) was a homemaker, mother and grandmother who loved to make Hungarian dishes and sing funny rhymes to her grandchildren whom she adored. She loved music and dancing and in the early 1950's she once danced on Dick Clark's American Bandstand. Betty also shared her birthday with Elvis Presley. Her grandchildren have many happy memories of spending time with her at the shore which she loved so much.

She is survived by her two loving sons, Donald Grampp, Jr. and his wife Janet of Waldorf, Maryland; Eric Grampp and his wife Lisa of Liberty, Missouri; her brother, John Jones and his wife Janet of Granite City, Illinois; six grandchildren who loved her dearly; and three great grandchildren.
