“ I am so sorry to find out that Beth has passed away. She was my best friend when I came back to Maryland for high school at Friendly. We were both in the band and she came right up to me the first day and introduced herself. I knew her mom and dad too both very fine people. One time we drove out to ocean city with her little sister and another friend to spend the day. We sure had a lot of fun. I moved back to California and we kept in touch while she was at Duquesne. i ended up going to USC instead of Boston U so we lost touch. I really have missed her over the years. She really knew how to listen to people and was very smart. Of course she was incredibly talented as a musician. I used to play my flute with her in our high school quartet group and a few times I went with her when she was taking private lessons. Such a huge loss. My mother is buried at Arlington as she was in the Navy nurse corps as a Lt. I get back almost every year so I will be certain to stop by her resting place as well as, her parents. My condolences to her family.
