“ Marsha and family; My heart felt condolences on the loss of your mom. May you find comfort in knowing you provided the best of care and love for her throughout her fight. You granted her last wish to return to her home for her final journey to eternal peace. May she be at peace now, free of disease and reunited with your dad. Although I never had the pleasure of meeting your mom, through your stories I felt the connection you had with her. May you all cherish your memories of the good times and may peace be with you in your time of sorrow. It's never easy losing a loved one and you have my deepest sympathy.
