

Glenn Richard Jones

April 1, 1952 - December 31, 2024

Glenn Richard Jones, husband to Mary, father to Zach (Katie) and Kelsey (Patrick), grandfather to Savannah, Hayden, and Mackenzie, coach and mentor to all, took his final breath December 31st.

Glenn began his legendary life on April 1st, 1952 in Pittsburgh, PA. He grew up a jock with a passion for sports, primarily wrestling, football, and baseball and anything representing the city of Pittsburgh. He went to college at Slippery Rock University, where he raised hell and studied to become a physical education teacher.

Glenn began his teaching career in Charles County in 1974. He worked at many different schools throughout his illustrious career in education, including the Bumpy Oaks Center, JC Parks Elementary, Gale Bailey Elementary, John Hanson Middle, Matthew Henson Middle, La Plata High, and the place that had a special place in his heart, Lackey High School.

Glenn was more than an educator who deeply cared for his students—he was a passionate and inspiring coach. Through his leadership in football, wrestling, and baseball, he not only achieved an impressive array of statistics but also built a community where young athletes thrived. Glenn inspired his "kids" daily, guiding them to grow into hardworking, compassionate, and resilient individuals.

We could list all of Glenn's achievements, but then that would turn into a novel and he wasn't much for the stroking of one's ego. So, to put it simply, Glenn was a machine. A role model. A jock with a vocabulary. An ass kicker. A mean SOB when he wanted to be. And one of the most loving and protective human beings you will ever encounter. He utilized every second he spent on Earth, taking care of others, up until the very end. He insisted on making sure his family, his kids, his boys, and his grandbabies were taken care of, no matter what he was going through.

Glenn Jones was a beacon on this Earth, particularly in Southern Maryland. His name and legacy will never be forgotten. The world might be a less powerful place without Glenn, but he would insist on celebrating the life he created, instead of mourning the time we lost.

Glenn Jones, the ultimate Lackey charger, embodied the saying "Heroes get remembered, but Legends never die". Glenn Jones lived a life that consisted of highs and lows, but most importantly he lived a full life with no regrets.

Francis Albert Sinatra sang it best:

"And now, the end is near
And so, I face the final curtain
My friend, I'll say it clear
I'll state my case, of which I'm certain
I've lived a life that's full
I traveled each and every highway
And more, much more than this
I did it my way"

Glenn (Mr. Jones, Coach, Dad) you will be greatly missed, but your legacy will live on through all of the hearts you inspired during your time on Earth.

Glenn Jones, the man, the myth, the legend.

Please wear the color of the school where Mr. Jones taught you at. If you attended an opposing school please wear blue and gray, no purple and orange attire.

“ Mr. Jones you were the absolute model of a person we should all strive toward and the kind of man every community needs. In no way do I exaggerate in saying I would not be the man I am today if not for your guidance. You were a champion, both loudly in a way that could silence a raucous gym; and quietly, behind the scenes in only the way someone brimming over with compassion could--or would--be. You were this to so very many who needed you. You personified the strength of authenticity and vulnerability. Hearing you bark my name from down a hallway simultaneously terrified me (like the best roller coaster EVER) and was among the first times I for one ever felt recognized as a person and not just some anonymous random kid. I pray your loved ones solace in the joy of who you were; and I pray you the rest you so dearly deserve. Thank you, sir.

“ During summer breaks, Coach Jones didn’t want our skills to diminish. He would load up the car and take us to his alma mater, Slippery Rock, for a week-long wrestling camp. And then return to pick us up. During one of those trips I got to make a trip the emergency room, as my high school buddy and fellow wrestler, Ricky Veatch decided to have a wrestle off in our dorm room. A slippery reversal and top mount slammed my head into the concrete floor splitting open my forehead. Aah the things we boys call fun! Those trips weren’t just about improving our wrestling skills. They were about teaching us the importance of investing in ourselves and the things we cared about. Lesson: invest in yourself if you want to be better, through education, your health, and society – show up! I feel an overwhelming sense of gratitude for having known him. Coach Jones gave us more than skills or strategies—he gave us belief. Belief in ourselves, belief in each other, and belief that we could overcome whatever life threw our way. To me Coach Jones was an amalgamation of Big Brother, Father Figure and Flaming SOB rolled into one. Even now, some nights I’ll wake from a cold sweat of him screaming at me “MIMS, will YOU Wrestle!”

“ As a teacher and assistant coach with Glenn with wrestling and JV football at Lackey from fall '84-spring '86, I was blessed with Glenn's invaluable mentorship. This was not only through coaching and learning the specific sports. More importantly, he showed me the mandatory value of linking the high level of selfless care needed towards students/athletes to their self-worth and pride in whatever they do. I will forever have the bruises on my arms from sitting next to him on the mat chairs to remind me how he has made such a huge difference in my life. One day Glenn, my Browns will surpass your Steelers to the Super Bowl. Say hi to Mary for me, a great woman.

“ Coach Jones was one of those people in life that you just know God put there to bless you and remind you of all that is good in the world. I had the happy luck to know him as a child at JC Parks and then again at Lackey. He was infectious and most of all, kind. I remember as a second grader asking him if he was the same Mr. Jones that was the director and animator for Looney tunes. I remember that conversation like it was yesterday. He put his hand on my shoulder and said, " I am not that Mr. Jones, but I am glad you are starting to read and not just watch the cartoons ". He could have answered any number of ways. He could have laughed at me, he could have been dismissive. He answered straight, and honestly, and found a way to compliment me. That was his style. All the way thru high school. He didn't just coach or teach, he loved. And you could tell it with his infectious smile and a voice and facial expressions that intimidated boys and men twice his size. When I heard he passed away, I was moved to pray for him and his family, and give thanks for the moments that he gave so freely to others. He was a force of good and loved by so many of us. He set the bar for being the measure of a man for us all to aspire to become. Even in his passing, he is coaching us on the value of friendship, community and giving freely. God bless Coach Jones, and may your family find comfort in the fact that his was a life well lived.

“Where do I start? Coach Jones was part of my life before I was a student at Lackey. My mom, the late Karen E. Burroughs worked with Coach Jones at Gale Bailey and at Lackey HS. From convincing my mom to measure the long and triple jump pit for track to convincing my late grandma to make him potato salad, Coach Jones was loved and part of my family growing up. He was always appreciative of how my family treated him and the other coaches like family.

As a student at Lackey (class of 1991), Coach Jones was everywhere. I remember being put out of choir class for talking during instructions and being told to leave. The first person I see in the hallway was Coach Jones. I knew this could go either way, good or not so good if he heard me get put out. (He heard.) He immediately went into “Dad mode” and scolded me for “being a smart ass” and for embarrassing my parents. Coach Jones said, “I will make sure Coach Altanner (volleyball) knows about this before I made it to the office to sit under the clock.” I wasn’t laughing then but I did when my Mom reminded me of this a few years ago. Coach Jones went to the library and told my mom then called my house and told my Dad (Walton “Bubbie” Burroughs) who was just walking in from work. Talk about it take a village to raise a child.

Coach Jones was the village. He was part of the school community and loved by the school community. I can’t imagine my days as a student athlete at LHS without him. When I became an elementary P.E. Teacher, he told my mom that I should come back and coach/teach at LHS. He teased me for choosing elementary over secondary.

May beautiful memories of his life fill the hearts of all who loved Coach Jones. I will be praying for a peace that surpasses all understanding in the days ahead.

“ I was lucky enough to play for Coach Jones for several years on Upper Marlboro baseball teams. I'll never forget the man; he could make you laugh one minute and put the fear of god in you the next, but you always knew he cared deeply about you. He helped instill the life long lessons of hard work, ultimate effort and determination in all his players. Thinking about you Zach, and RIP coach.

“ Deepest condolences to the Jones family from all of the Wrights. I and all 3 boys were lucky to be students at Lackey when Coach was there during his different stints, and he was a valuable mentor to my wife when she became an administrator. Mr. Jones had the unique quality to make you feel like, of all the people he knew and looked out for, you were extra special to him. A force of nature, a privilege to know. God bless from the Wright family.

“ Glenn taught gym at John Hanson when I was there. He was coaching my cousin Tony at Lackey at the time and knew we were related so we talked a bit more than we would have otherwise. I connected with him many times over the years before I moved from Charles County and have very fond memories of him. He was a good man.

“ My very first school experience was at Gale Baily Elementary in Kindergarten. Mr. Jones, my first gym teacher, had us play duck-duck-goose outside on the grass. I remember him running around our small circle so fast he had to lean into the center to keep his balance. It was his last year at Gale Baily. Years later, at Lackey, I was fortunate enough to have him as my PE teacher again. I also had the privilege, as a freshman, of helping the varsity baseball team with equipment after school and at games. This gave me a sense of responsibility and made me feel like a small part of the team—something I desperately needed at that time in my life. Although I was a bit of an outsider, I observed his coaching style firsthand. He had a firm but loving approach to his team, encouraging each player to reach their full potential, even when they doubted themselves. We are all better for having had him in our lives. He will be deeply missed.

“ Glenn and I were kindred souls. We were both from western Pennsylvania and we both started teaching and coaching in 1974. We competed coaching against each other in both wrestling and football. Glenn was everything a coach should be. He cared not only about his athletes but he cared so much about his opponents athletes. It was a joy to compete against Lackey High School and Coach Jones. His teams were always prepared and they were always mean. I especially enjoyed the fellowship with Glenn before and after the matches and games. The Chopticon Braves send our sincere condolences to Glenn's family and to his Lackey High School family. I look forward to replaying all the wins and losses with Glenn when I am called. Glenn's life was well lived and an inspiration to all that it touched. Much love to Glenn and his family.

“ It was indeed my pleasure and privilege to coach with Glenn at Lackey during the 1980's. He was a wonderful coach and friend. He opened my eyes to new ways of coaching and teaching. My time with Glenn benefitted me throughout the remainder of my career. The lives he touched and the people he helped grow to their fullest is the greatest legacy any educator/coach can leave behind. Everyone one Glenn taught, coached or worked with was enriched by knowing him. Rest in peace Coach, job well done, and may God grant comfort and peace to your family and friends who will miss you.

He called me not long before he passed. I knew at that time he was losing the fight with cancer. We had a lot of good times working together, going out with friends and attending athletic events. “ Mr. Jones was truly a caring and selfless man. He kept me out of trouble through my entire high school years. I was terrible my freshman year but we had a conversation one day that changed my attitude towards school and where I was going in life. Since that conversation, I did everything in my power to not disappoint him because he showed me, and a lot of others, how much he really cared for us. He also use to call me “Akeem the Dream” and yelled it everytime he seen me. It was so inspirational and I still call myself that till this day and remember him for instilling in me that I can make anything possible in life. He will absolutely be missed and wishing his family, friends, and everyone he came across healing as we go through this touch time of losing a man so amazing.

“ I first met Mr. Jones when he was a physical education teacher at the Gwynn Center. Mr. Jones worked a lot with my brother, who had physical difficulties. He prepared the Gwynn Center students in the Special Olympics. Mr. Jones also worked with the students that needed extra help with exercises to strengthen weak areas. He was patient, encouraging, and kept everyone working! Not only was Mr. Jones a big part of the students lives at the Gwynn Center but he worked with the families as well. This is how I first met Mr. Jones.

A few years later Mr. Jones transferred to Lackey. We loved him at Lackey. He had a sense of humor but didn't put off with any slackers! He was a great teacher and led by example.

I am so sorry Jones family for your loss. Mr. Jones made a huge impact on everyone that he met and we were all fortunate to have him as a teacher.

“ I grew up watching Jones coaching my brother at Lackey and I was in awe from the start. Sadly I wasn't lucky enough to become a charger myself. I, in fact was a rival at McDonough. Even with that he still embraced me as one of his “boys” before during and after wrestling. I have learned just as much about resilience as an adult from Jones as I did while competing. He was hard when he needed to be but everyone knew that came from the heart. I will always be in his debt for what he taught me and showing me what it means to give back. I have cherished all the moments of deep conversation, laughter or advice over the years and will never take any of it for granted. You will be missed sorely but we know you're carrying on your legacy in heaven and spending time with your loved ones. We love you Coach!!!

“ On behalf of the Mais family, and particularly our four sons who graduated from Lackey, my sincere condolences and prayers for Glenn’s family. As an employee of CCPS, I can say without a doubt that Glenn was among the best there was as an administrator, coach, and always a teacher. He cared about his “kids...” and every time he was at central office, he took the time to stop by our office and say hello. He’d always ask how those Mais boys were doing... always made me feel they were extra special to him, but of course, all his “kids” were special to him. He was one of a kind, the rare individual who actually made a difference in the lives of so many. The testimonials will certainly speak of the man he was... caring, motivating, and definitely never took any nonsense from any of those “kids.” He made sure they stayed on the straight and narrow, whether or not a student was a wrestler.. he always watched out for all. He could be considered too loud or condescending, but it was just his way to get a kid’s attention... everyone was treated the same. He was very respectful, courteous and kind. He made one feel special and loved. There was no one else like him. RIP Glenn. ❤️

“ A few years ago, and well past my wrestling days at Lackey, Coach Jones told me if he had coached me all four years of HS that I would have been a State Champion. And to this day, I believe him. That’s who he was. He inspired you to do things you didn’t think or know you could do, and he pushed you well past the person and athlete you would have been on your own. He did this for me, and hundreds, if not thousands of other student athletes he had the opportunity to impact in his life. Coach Jones was truly like a second Dad to me, inspiring me to be great in all I did in life, even into my 50’s. This world was a better place because of you and you leave a gaping hole in so many lives. But you’re reunited with your dearest Mary and I’m sure driving her crazy already. RIP Coach. As a fellow graduate of Slippery Rock University, we shared a common love of collegiate hijinks. Glenn was a certified force of nature.
