

Iossif "Joe" Marios Gressis

June 26, 1976 - September 7, 2021

Iossif Marios Petros Gressis

06/26/1976 – 9/07/2021

A Father, Husband, Son, Brother, Mentor, Protector, and a Friend. He was selfless, caring, and always giving. Iossif Marios Petros Gressis, better known as Joe, embodied all that was good in this world and was proud of his Greek heritage. He espoused the value of 'Φιλοξενία' which means a friend to strangers; he truly cared for his family, friends and community. He saw value in everyone and was loved by everyone.

Joe found joy by helping those around him, whether strangers or friends. In November 2015, he hosted his first all free Thanksgiving meals at Galazio Restaurant for anyone who needed either a meal or just someone's company. He enjoyed sitting at the tables and sharing his stories with strangers, while at the same time hearing theirs. Only a small handful of families came, however the event sent shockwaves of gratitude throughout the community and became an yearly event.

His presence had a massive impact on people's lives and he had a way to help anyone who may have given up or made terrible mistakes. To Joe, no one was beyond helping.

Additionally, Joe had a gift, the gift of simply putting people on the right track; he simply knew what was good for people and encouraged them to become the person they wanted to be. He never held back either, he wasn't only a mentor to the young, but he was able to offer sage advice to anyone no matter where they were in life. There are countless stories of those who knew Joe and found new meaning in life because of his influence.

To his staff that learned the value of hard work, to the advice and encouragement he always gave his friends, and to his family that depended on him for being the rock that he was, and to the countless displays of generosity to the Charles County Community--Joe helped us all.

It's with deep sadness that lossif Marios Gressis has passed on. He was a mountain of a man and left behind a cavernous hole in our hearts. There is no replacing him, and we will never see anyone like him again. The best we can do now is hold onto him, every memory, as best as we possibly can. We are not Joe, but at least we can try to adopt some of his many qualities and talents. He was such a rare person who could do so many things and had so many interests; he loved music, hunting, traveling, eating, building, conversing, a glass of Glenlivet, but most of all, he loved playing Poker.

He became a person who was fearless, full of optimism and filled with hope. His hopes, dreams, and desires were infectious, and they radiated to everyone around him. He had a gift for guiding others to realize their dreams. Anyone who knew Joe knew how funny he could be. He was a great imitator, a storyteller, and he could make anyone laugh. He naturally knew how to lift the environment and put on a good show. He was also a loving and caring husband and he continued to honor, respect and obey his vows everlastingly. Joe was a loving and caring father who would do anything for his children, Asimina and Petro. He would wake them up with music and laughter every morning and take them to school. Petro learned how to fish and play chess from Joe and he would take Asimina to horseback riding lessons and taught them both how to play poker. He cared for his employee's not only as a boss, but more importantly, as a mentor. Even during the Pandemic, as a generous act, Joe granted the restaurant's gross sales for the day back to his employees to help them and to support them during their difficult times.

Joe could connect with anyone, and we only wish that we could connect with our Joe again one more time. For so many of us, our only desire now is to make you proud, and we know that means we must live our lives to the best because that is your expectation from us. We love you lossif Marios Gressis and we will miss you and cherish you for the rest of our lives. Your name will never be forgotten in our community.

“ I just found out about Joe last week. My sister and I go to Obo's in Smallwood Village all the time. I had no idea until I came across an article on Twitter, I think.

After reading all the tributes, I only wish I'd known him and the family better. He sounds like an amazing guy with a huge heart. He gave to the community without expectations of anything in return. He was an angel on earth. Now he's an angel watching over his family. RIP Joe, you are missed and loved

“ *To Joe's family & friends,
I'm very sorry to hear of Joe's passing.
I met Joe years ago through mutual friends at local social gatherings as well at catered parties.*

He was always very polite, professional and had a very pleasant community. I especially remember he always had a very welcoming smile towards others. A dedicated individual who will be sorely missed in the community. My deepest condolences!

“ To the Gressis, we send love and condolences to you all. My husband and I had the pleasure to meet Joe first at Galazio's where we were introduced to the best authentic Greek food, ever. When Lucianna's opened, Joe greeted us with the history of the name and the best place that Waldorf has ever experienced. His love for family and culture was necessary and needed in the county. He will be missed. May His memory be eternal to us all. From Leon and Theresa Hollowell & family.

“ Some people are just angels on earth. Joe was one of those angels. Joe was just a beautiful person we should all inspire to be. He would want us to carry on his mission, he would want the community to continue the legacy he began. I will miss seeing his huge smile. My prayers are with his wife, children and his entire family as they navigate this tremendous loss. We as a community mourn with you, as it will never be the same without him. #doitforjoe

“ Joe,
You thought about everyone in your brief life every single day,
Your loved mom and dad, sister and brother, you loved your wife and children, your family and employees, you loved your Greek culture, your Greek food and music, and jokes and making Facebook videos.
But today we think of you with love, and yesterday, and the day before. Since you left us. We think of you in silence, Your mother screams out your name, we see your face in a picture frame.
We wonder why you had to leave us,
And now God has you in His keeping.
Rest in paradise ❤️
