“ It was a privilege to be able to call Jimmy a coworker and an even bigger honor to call him a friend. Mountain Man Jim will always be remembered as an excellent leader and one of the best project managers many of us will ever meet. He touched us all with his warmth and had a joke for just about anything. These halls are so quiet without you, Jim. We miss you.

“ Jim was an example setter who took pride in his work and easily acknowledged the fine work preformed by others. He knew how to address people, would do anything to get "it" done and was always very organized, all of which made him a valuable leader of the Southern team.

Jim lit the light to show us the way! Our prayers go out to his family but we are all comforted that his troubles are over with.

“ That raspy voice always gave me a feeling of confidence. Here's a guy that knows what he's doing because he has done it many times before. Rest In Peace my friend. We will all miss you.
