Up until his passing, John worked at the family business, Scope Restoration, as the "Bookie," where he was highly valued for his expertise and dedication to his work.

John was an avid golfer. While in Carbondale, he was a member at Elkview Country Club, where he would spend countless hours on the course pursuing his love for the game. He was a founder with his son Sean at the Under Armour Junior Golf League of Southern Maryland, where he helped to inspire a new generation of young golfers including his favorite junior, Joslen. John was a diehard fan of Notre Dame football and the Phillies. He loved nothing more than attending games and cheering them on with his family and friends. John was also a proud member of the Waldorf Moose Lodge, where he enjoyed socializing with many friends.
