

John Jamison Haig

August 19, 1922 - December 15, 2014

John Jamison Haig, 92, of Newburg, MD passed at his home on the Potomac River on December 15, 2014.

John was a loving husband and father with a kind and generous spirit, a gentleman and fierce Cribbage player. He was born in Wisconsin to John O. Haig and Daphne (Mary G. Marsh) Haig. While in Washington, DC for training to be a Navy Radioman during WWII, he met his soon-to-be wife, Ellen Frank. They were married in 1944 before he was sent overseas to war in England and Ireland. He retired from the federal government after a long career with the Federal Aviation Agency. He was a long-time resident of Newburg since 1979 for 35 years. He loved talking with his neighbors and friends. His interests include the Redskins, bowling, gardening, and stamp collecting.

He was preceded in death by his wife Mary Ellen (Frank) Haig of Washington, DC and two sons, Cory J. Haig and Gary E. Haig.

He is survived by four children, Hillary J. Haig, Jamie Thorness and her husband Mike, Richard Haig, and Douglas Haig. He is also survived by 10 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Friends received on Monday, December 29, 2014 from 11AM until the time of Funeral Service beginning at 1PM. Interment at a later date at the Cedar Hill

“ I had the privilege to live beside John for over 20 years, I enjoyed our talks and his gardening tips. He was a wonderful person. My sincerest sympathies to his children, especially Rick whom provided his father with the daily care that allowed him to stay in the home he loved. Betty Gardiner

“ PopPop was a loving gentleman. Enjoyed seeing him at Charles County Adult Day Care smiling with my daughter Donna Moorleghen. During WW11 he gave so much so we could enjoy the life we have today. I salute you my friend. May you rest in peace. Love you PopPop. Debbie Prohaska
