“ Even after attending the service today, it is still unbelievable to me. John was that person always so full of life with that smile that lit up a room! He is going to be missed dearly by so many. I was lucky enough to meet John when we were pretty young. I was his Great Grandma's nextdoor neighbor. He was just as sweet and cool as a cucumber back then. We stayed friends throughout the years but, as many adults do, didn't see each other very often. I am glad we saw each other recently, even if it were only for a brief moment in traffic long enough to say Hello. Til we meet again, my friend!

“ JP as I called him and all of the folks on the baseball team he played with in Alexandria. He will be missed. He always made sure he came up to me at each game to give me a hug and make sure I was doing fine and to call him if I needed him to help out after my husband passed. Gone to soon but God do not make no mistakes but still hard to understand. My condolences to his family and friends,, “ John helped me w my feral cats twice several years ago. I volunteer with Alley Cat Rescue. He died much too young. He was a lovely gentle person w the feral cats. I'm in my 80s and taking care of them gives me a reason to get up every morning. Valerie Choudhury

“ You were a great friend and brother to me from day 1 at Verizon all the way to now, 15 years later. You and I would laugh all day long when we worked together and laugh even more as we hung out afterwards. So many memories of good times, funny stories, long debates about the state of the Skins. You were a great person who cared about people and looked out for people and I thank you for sharing that light with us and making an impact on lives that'll never be forgotten.

“ In high school, we used to look out for each other at lunch. You would steal my fries as I ate my steak and cheese and tell me random stories.

At prom, you pulled up in a car with a stick shift. You were determined to get us where we needed to be. We sat at the light on 228 for almost a minute before you stopped stalling out. You never drove a stick shift prior to that night but you kept it cool as you always did.

You were my buddy. I am going to miss you.

Prayers of comfort and strength to his mom and the rest of his family and close friends and loved ones.
