“ In 25 years I can't remember a time that Grandpa Alton didn't have a smile on his face, even the past few years when he wasn't at his best. He was no doubt a hard worker with an amazing heart; a loving husband, doting father and an even better grandfather. Grandpa Alton showed us all how to love, appreciate and be at peace with the world. If you ever needed someone to sit back, watch tv and drink a Pepsi with- he was your man. He would never let you forget that Grandma Jean was his right hand and that he loved every single member of his family. I will miss his laughter, his blue work pants and his cheerful spirit.
