“ Joe's was much older than I, he's friends with my older brother Sonny Higgins formally remax 100 realtor. I went to school with his sons Jay and his brother. My condolences to the family for the loss of your father. He's awesome accomplished man. I lost my father the early age so I know what it means. Both of my brothers passed away on the last one. But I'd like to extend love and prayers to the family and be comforted to know if you believed on our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ he is in the arms of Jesus now. My faith and my hope is Knowing that Christ is able to keep everything I have committed unto him for when we face that day and pass into Glory. Love and prayers. Gregory Higgins.

“ My sincere condolences to Joe's family members. Joe was a good friend of mine in our early years in Anacostia. The guys we hung out with were Freddie Martin, Micky and Paul Rosaco (spilling), myself, Joe and a couple others. Joe was the leader and the our group. Joe being a golden glove champion no one was going to mess with Joe. Although one guy in our neighborhood did challenge Joe...I won't mention his name but he wished he hadn't. Joe kick his butt. But they later became friends. I had such fun times hanging with Joe. He would come to my house on Ridge Pl SE and we would wrestle in my front lawn. The reason this is so memorable was I would get Joe in a headlock that he couldn't get out of. Great fun. But that was the only thing I was competitive with Joe. Such great and fun memories.

*RIP Joe and God Bless everyone in your family.

*To Wilda and family God's blessings. May the new year keep you healthy and safe. I know this message is a bit late, however my roots are in DC and Joe enjoyed many good times in our younger years. From our youthful adventures to shared good times in the Drapes Social Club all bring back memories. Unfortunately I was not aware of Joe's health issues as well as his passing. I regret not staying in touch after relocating to Florida in 72.
Rest in peace Joe.
