“ Joe, we worked together for 20 years. This past year you would come into the office with your low raspy voice and we talked for a few minutes. I will never forget the crab feast at June's house i am unsure of the drink you made for me, but i didn't drive home. The time you came to the office wearing your sun visor that made you look that guy on TV. i will always remember the fun times you brought to all of us. Now you're at your final curtain call. May all the angels and some devils, be blessed with your humor.

You will be missed.

“ Now that I am an old man I remember the wonderful times had by all that volunteered their services to organizing Central High's class reunions. Many dedicated folks over the course of 50 plus years but at the anchor, there was always Joe and Joan. Delightful, charitable, sharing and caring and always good for several hours of laughter. On a couple of these reunion committees the planning was as much or more fun than the actual event. Not because of any one individual but a circle of friends planning and sharing together. Unfortunately, the circle has been broken. It's sad but hopefully we will be able to meet again in another place and re-share those wonderful experiences again.

“ What a wonderful experience it has been to know Joe and Joan since high school. I remember Joan, pregnant with Jeanette, while we both worked for the Division of Radiological Health, Department of Health, Education and Welfare. In high school, Joan was a beautiful majorette and Joe was the lucky guy who captured her heart. Joe was a gourmet Italian chef and a model train aficionado. Most importantly, he loved his family and was a wonderful husband and Dad. May wonderful memories and a lifetime of love sustain Joan, Jeanette, Jackie and his grandchildren during this most difficult time. With love from Mary DeSarno Martin.
