“ To the Drummond boys: I truly regret that I did not get to Raymonds to visit with you boys and personally tell you that I always thought of Joy as a fine Christian woman, a great mother, and a long-time friend. Although I had not visited with Joy for many years I always remember the days when both our boys were young, especially the time that Joy and Mr. Drummond brought Preston to our home on Hamilton Road to play with Monty and brought the newest member of the family, still a tiny baby, for Joe and I to meet. My recollection is that was Timmy. We shall all miss Joy.

Affectionately, Barbara Montgomery
