“ Judy & Henry were a loving couple & we enjoyed their friendship even though we were not able to get together much. We visited in Paris the summer after Dick & I married. That was the first time we met Henry. They were so well matched! After I finished my education, I worked for NOAA - as did Henry. We always had NOAA things to talk about. Then when I accepted a new job & moved to NC, I had a personal visit from the lab director. Turns out Judy was a friend of his and had alerted him that I would be joining his lab. Judy was like that always taking care of details to lift up others. Judy & Henry attended my retirement and that meant a lot to me. After Henry died, we heard very little from Judy. Judy was a joy and kind to everyone. Friends like Judy are cherished and leave a legacy of love. May God give you comfort and peace!

Thank you for that. Know any loss of communication or connection was due to Alzheimer's. Not a conscious decision on Moms part. Amy
