“ Ken and I shared a special bond---we were the naughty kids in the family. We were not always as "prim and proper" as many of the kids were. We would do silly things and make people laugh, even when we grew up and became adults. When he became confined to bed, I would visit and do silly dances to make him laugh and make outrageous faces. I would call him on the phone and sing silly songs for holidays and his birthday. Maybelle would say, " y'all are so crazy". And we were and we had crazy fun. Even when confined to his wheelchair, that did not stop us from staying up all night in Atlantic City in a casino. We would go out to dinner and see who could eat the most food----look at me now and you will see who won that contest. Yes, Ken was special, and I will miss him. But I know he is well now and happy and reunited with all the Kornegays, Evans and all the other family and friends who preceded him in going home. What a celebration going on, I bet. Rest in peace, Ken and keep an eye on us down here and give my love to everyone.
Trish.

“ Ken was a WONDERFUL brother-in-law and also a friend. We met in Germany and bonded in Guam. Last time I saw him was when the Air Force sent him to Colorado for work. It's heartbreaking that such a vital person was laid low by M.S. I'm so very sorry he's gone. My condolences to everyone who loved him.

*My dear brother - -you inspired me in many ways. You married a wonderful lady (Agnes) and with her, raised two young men (Chris and Kenneth, Jr) into manhood. They will carry our family name to next generations. Our mother introduced us to Northeast Baptist Church--we prayed, bonded and loved. We had many dreams and though we traveled a lot, it was not as much together as desired. The best travel forward will be on the road to the good Lord where we will join with our parents and others - - that is my prayer. Until then, I will miss you and forever cherish the memories.
