He told her about the past, how they met, their first kiss. They didn't cry, they smiled. They didn't regret anything, they were grateful. Then she repeated softly, 'I love you forever!' He returned her words, gave her a soft kiss on the forehead. She closed her eyes and fell asleep peacefully with her hand in his.

Love is really all that matters because everyone comes into this world with nothing other than love and leaves with nothing other than love. Think about it. Profession, career, bank account, our goods are just tools, nothing more. Everything stays here. So just love....Love those that really love you. Love, as if there was nothing more important in your life!

“ Lana is one of the strongest women I’ve ever known. I often wondered where she found the strength to push through difficult times, and past different obstacles. The only possible answer has to be: the love for her family, and if I didn’t already have a little of that in me from my upbringing, she surely led by example.

Mama:

No one will ever be able to fill your shoes, but I will do my very best to follow your footsteps and continue to be there for our family and the farm.

Please give Oliver all my love and make sure he knows that even though I held Colton for the first time Thursday, he will always be my baby boy.

Love you.
