“ Linda I love and miss you so much. This poem is just for you.
Velanne aka Velma Dianne Scutt

HERE AT LAST

*Today we're preparing to say farewell for now,
With the heaviest of hearts; we just don't know how!
Linda, your life was brief but filled with so much love,
No wonder the Lord has taken you to your home above.*

*The Lord called the angels together to say,
"I have someone who will be coming to stay."
He said, "let her trip be quick and fast,
She's going to be with Me; here at last!"*

*The angels sang to welcome you home,
There's so much to see and you're never alone.
Your sister Julie and your Daddy are there too,
My Daddy was waiting for he also loved you.*

*For you dear Linda there's excitement and wonder,
We'll join you for sure when the "Roll Is Called Up Yonder!"
There's so much love to spare in Heaven, but never ever hate.
Look for us at the Eastern Gate; I promise we won't be late,*

*So Linda we're here to see you one last time,
We are all sure that you're going to be fine.
With tears in our eyes we're asking you please,
Fair Winds in Heaven and Following Seas.*

*Say Hi to Jesus for me I'll see you when I get there!
Love you, Velanne.

Linda aka Recline thanks for being a great friend to me thru our Navy years. You will missed by all who knew and loved you. I hope somehow you can hook up with Karen Carpenter in heaven so you can sing a duet. Your singing was so beautiful and so heartfelt. Love you always, JED

“ Linda Klein, Something Special

Linda Klein was a very special person to me.

I developed a wonderful friendship with Linda in Jr High that lasted until we graduated HS and I never saw nor heard from her again.

From the moment our eyes connected and we traded mutual smiles which would become the cornerstone ritual of our friendship. Our connection was not romantic, nor was it platonic, it was that instant deep connection you get when you meet someone and feel totally accepted for who and what you are, our exchanging glances said to each other, "Yeah, I get you."

Linda had a healthy sense of humor laced with an ample dose of skepticism. I remember her almost uniform-like attire, blue jacket hoodie, with string hanging from one side, faded jeans, and flannel shirt; her tomboyish demeanor was at odds with her developing model-like beauty. She had a wonderfully warm smile usually followed by a decidedly hearty laugh, punctuated with a cynical grin.

After HS we somehow lost touch, and I recall years ago someone told me she had passed and I felt a loss that I was unable to reconnect with her, now my heart aches just a lil, knowing she was around all of that time and we never reconnected.

But I have never, ever forgotten her. There are two well-known actresses that always reminded me of her, Jodie Foster and Helen Hunt. There was never a time I saw them or their work that Linda did not cross my mind.

Now that she is no longer with us, it is a testament to her wonderful warmth, humanity, kindness, and inner glow, that although I have not seen, nor talked to her in over 40 years, her beautiful presence is a factor in my life.

Linda was truly something special and I will carry her forever in my heart, as I have always.

*Love you, Linda,
Keep smiling, and don't forget to smirk :)*

“ Linda was one of my best friends when I was growing up. God smiled on me when He sent her and her family to move in next door to me when I was only little. A better friend couldn't be had. The years passed with us playing together on every snowy day, with countless hours spent sitting on her front steps or walking the neighborhood just talking and talking. All it took was a whistle from my window or from her back yard and off we were, chatting away over that red and white fence. As we got older, we drove back and forth to work together - me at the Pentagon, her in Crystal City - and our long conversations continued.

She was a beautiful woman with a beautiful soul. She loved her dog Buddy, and also loved gardening, even loved weeding ... never could understand that. She had an exceptionally close relationship with her mother, and was very lucky to be able to share so much of her life with her. Linda and I were lucky in that our mothers were friends, and one year decided to treat our moms to a cruise in the Carribean ... and what a great time the four of us had!

The years saw us drift apart, but we got back together a few years ago and when we spoke it was like no time had passed. Full of laughter and memories, we once again had so much to talk about. My dear friend, we had plans to cause a ruckus and end our days together in an old folks home, causing all manner of trouble. I guess God needed you now. I shall miss you terribly; save me a spot.
