“ Megan had the most Beautiful smile I've ever seen. She had such confidence in herself, but when it would faulted just a little, most people never knew because she would smile and hide it behind that smile til she felt that confidence come back. She always wanted to take pictures to save the memories of the moment, she knew how short life could be and treasured even the smallest of things that life offered. She held those memories close to her heart for times she needed a little bit more happiness. I have so many wonderful memories of her that I will hold dear and close to my heart. My thoughts and prayers are with her family and friends during these difficult times. 🥹💔 I will always love and remember you...till we meet again.
