“ The first time I met Nancy Lee was when I started working for the Exercises and Deployments branch of Operations at the ANGRC. I couldn't find the desk where I was supposed to work because it was such a maze of cubicles. Nancy saw me wandering around and took me under her wing. She showed me where my desk was, where the boss' desk was and that was just the beginning of the stuff she taught me. She became a good friend.

Nancy took care of everyone. Every Christmas she would put together baked goods for all the guys who were at the ANGRC temporarily. If you have ever heard of the saying, “she'd give you the shirt off of her back”, that was Nancy Lee. Nancy took care of everyone. When we bought our house, Nancy made an afghan for us that has lasted over twenty years.

Nancy was also funny and loved a good time. She had the best laugh! She loved her family so much!

When she moved to the Pentagon, we kept in touch via telephone. I will miss you, Nancy Lee, just knowing you were around made me feel better. Good-bye, my friend.
