“ Brandi and Mandy, your mom was a beautiful person. Always talking about her grandchildren. She was very upbeat no matter what she was dealing with. When I saw her at Tiffany's birthday party she was looking so good and happy. It was then I heard that she was l'll. I know you will miss her. Just think how happy she is now. As a person who has taken care of many who have passed, I can tell you, when you want to share something with her or just tell her you love her, etc., just say it! Just like you would if you could see her. Just say it! It will help recovery! Truly sorry for your loss!
