“ Pat and I would set around and discuss organic gardening, how to get rid of spiders with peppermint oil,he didn't like those black spiders. We also talked about using oils in our oil diffuser,working out in the work out room as he called it.I rember when he put proxcide in his humidifier and truned his hair blonda,we just laughed about that.we would talk about old time showed,listen to music,or just talk and laugh.He would asked me if I had anything to make him laugh that happen at my house and he just wanted a hug.I could go on and on about Pat but IAM going to stop here because this all makes me very sad that my friend Pat is gone,but I know he is not in any pain now.So I will say good by to my friend for now. Love Lynne best buddies for ever.
