November 19, 1935 - January 24, 2011

Rayner Paul Trueman, 75, of Aquasco, MD, died January 24, 2011, at St. Mary's Hospice House, Callaway, MD.

Mr. Trueman was the Director of Communications for 30 years with Northrop Page Communications. His background and career was the basis for his continued interest in Communications Technology. He was considered the "go to" guy for assembling and installing complex satellite, television and CB systems. He was a life-long member of the Washington Telecommunications Society (WTS).

His interests included small and large engine repair as well as old steam tractors. He donated several old steam tractors to the Richmond Virginia Historical Steam Tractor Society. These tractors were significant since they had been used actually in a logging operation on the Trueman farm in early 1900's. For this donation he received a plaque and an article in a Virginia paper.

His prized possession was a grandfather clock he assembled and finished which will continue to chime in his memory.
