“ It saddens me greatly to learn of Rene's passing. Years have passed since we saw and spoke with each other, but my memory of him is as if it were only yesterday. Rene made a lasting mark on my life in that he was such a help to me, not only at the German School, but also in my homes, where he could always be counted on to make repairs, but also in being a good, trusting, lasting friend. We laughed together, broke bread together, drank together, had great conversations together. It grieves me so much that in my old age, I cannot manage to be there to say a last goodbye. If there is an afterlife, then I hope that we meet there once more, and, we can raise a mug of beer together and say "Prosit." Farewell for now, dear friend and I hope for an auf Wiedersehen when my time comes.

“ Rene was a man who always welcomed you with a smile, a gentle chuckle, and a hearty handshake, making you feel welcome. He could always be counted on to speak his mind, be bluntly honest, and work his hardest to complete any task. He valued his friends and would gladly help those whom he respected and cared about. He had a proud and friendly demeanor, and he liked including you in his humor. Whenever I was late to work in the 1980's, I would often cut through the boiler room as the quickest way to the Sports Department, and whenever he would "catch" me, he always made me smile with a quick quip about my "timely" arrival. Knowing his attachment to his dogs (and I clearly remember Butch, a beauty of a Rottweiler), and I'm sure also to Jan's animals ;), I have made a contribution to the Humane Society of Charles County in his memory. He will be fondly remembered and I feel fortunate to have known him.
