“ We are very shocked and saddened hearing of Rick's passing. We would always see him and Linda out eating and we would laugh and ask where should we meet next time. Great person and will truly be missed. Eulo and Susan Regala

“ I met Rick just once...he was just so nice and, within minutes, we were chatting away like old friends. His caring personality and wit shone through immediately and I thoroughly enjoyed our brief encounter. I cannot imagine the unfathomable loss Lynda and their families are enduring. I offer my deepest condolences and pray for strength to those that must pick up the pieces of their lives and carry on without Rick. My thoughts and prayers are with you...

“ Still can not believe a good friend is gone and another voice I will never hear again. We had many good times eating crabs, lifting a glass or two, going to Redskins and National games, fishing, and all around just enjoying each other's company. I will miss him.

“ Rick was a friend, coach, boss, and mentor. I met rick when I was 5 years old and he was just coach Mosteller at that time. Little did I know how much of an influence he would have on my life. Rick was my fathers best friend since that time and would ultimately be a father figure to me these last few years. Rick may have had a tough outer shell but he was as caring as they came and always wanted to see you succeed. I can't believe your gone but I know you and dad are up there enjoying a voodoo and watching over all of us.

My heart goes out to Lynda and the family. I've known Rick for what seems like forever. Mr. Mr. Grumpy as we called him when we bowled. He was an all around great person to hang out with. He was always there for others lending a helping hand. He was a great husband, father, grandpa and friend. His crab feast and yes his Voodoo punch was a family affair. He will truly be missed by me. He was one of a kind. Thank you for being my friend. Love you Grumpy ❤️

I've known Rick since Junior High School. Played soccer and baseball with him in high school and then we graduated in 1973. Didn't see him again until 2018 and I can honestly say Rick hadn't changed a bit, maybe a little slower and grayer but the same exact super nice and caring Rick . he hosted our class reunion the last couple of years and they were really like going to a family member's home. His wife Lynda was the friendliest and nicest person to open her home and treat everyone just like Rick did. I believe they were the perfect couple. I am so sorry for Lynda and all of their family for the loss of a great guy but knowing Rick he is up there making sure everything is ready to go. Miss youmy Friend ! Dan Hume
