“ From Gary Herbert

I think I have lost a kindred spirit. The friend who introduced me to charter fishing for yellow fin tuna, Capitals hockey games, Memorial Stadium and Camden Yards. A gem of a person and a true friend. I will hold our memories dear.

“ Hey Bob, remember when we met those many years ago when I was a teen and you were a kid? I watched you grow up into a young man. We had a lot of fun and a lot of laughs. You were included in everything we did, the good and even the bad. I remember when you got the job with PG County dispatch. How excited you were and I was excited with you. It was such a tremendous opportunity and I knew it would change your life. I never heard you complain about your lot in life especially the pain. But, I did a lot of complaining for you. Why did you have to have that horrible disease I asked many times. If there is a heaven, I know you are running now with your arms pumping beside you. Hey, maybe you're even flying! But if there is no heaven you are not in pain anymore.

Goodbye, good friend

“ I will remember Bob for knowing something about a plethora of topics. We would talk about a myriad of topics and he could go on for hours.
I will miss my favorite conversationalist. 🙏🙏

“ Too many memories from plowing snow on the Beltway to get home after a bluegrass concert in Fairfax, working together at communications, sporting events, and of course a beer or two, ok maybe three. Bob never left his handicap keep him from living life, always an inspiration.

Funny story time. A group of us went to Cap Centre for a hockey game. Bob and I had to go so we were on our way back to our seats, of course we stopped to get beer for the return trip, a guy started cussing and starting a fuss because we were taking so long to move to our seats. I am yelling at this guy and telling him to have some respect for a handicapped person. He started to come down seats toward us cussing us all the way. I handed Bob the beers and started up after this guy. He stopped and turned around. Well Bob is standing there propped on his sticks and holding our beers and I almost knocked him over. I turned around and grabbed his jacket and he got his balance. He said I might have gone over but I would have never spilled a drop!! We laughed so hard. Neither of us was driving by the way.

A good friend to many, you will be missed here, but never forgotten.

“ Bob was a great supervisor on Shift 1 in Communications, but he was even a better friend. He introduced me to hockey taking me to many Caps games. We enjoyed many cookouts in the carport of his home with his parents. Bob will always have a special place in my heart. Rest in peace, my friend.

“ Bob was a PGPD treasure who we honored and respected. He was a comforting voice in our sometimes chaotic world. Bob was one of us, loved to join in, party and socialize. Many of us have shared memories of good times with our friend and partner. Bob, may you RIP among the Angels. Forever in our hearts ❤️

“ We in South Carolina are deeply saddened to hear this. Bob and I communicated regarding family matters. We were 4th cousins. His grandfather Spigner (we call him 'Uncle Norman') was buried by himself in Historic Mill Creek Cemetery, aka the famous Old Lykes Cemetery, aka Mill Creek UMC Cemetery, adjacent to Lykesland Community, Richland County, SC, in 1946, a year before Bob was born. And our cousin, Robert Maxwell Spigner, insisted on bridging Uncle Norman's final resting place to the rest of his family. Robert Maxwell is buried next to our beloved Uncle Norman. We, here, love this family, and we are very sorry to hear this.

“ Bob, Me, Gary Herbert and my Honey Larry went to a Caps/Ranger game, this really beautiful female was in front of us (I knew she wasn't just a regular hockey fan), so Gary was sitting between us and I leaned over and said "Hey Bob who's that Model that's married to the Ranger player and he said louder than usual CAROL ALT and she turned to Bob and said yes!!! I HAVE NEVER SEEN BOB AT A LOSS FOR WORDS HE STUTTERED AND SPUTTERED AND JUST COULDN'T GET ANY WORDS OUT. it was so funny, after a while he was able to converse with her she even shared her popcorn with him. GOOD TIMES

“ Remembering all the good times and laughs going to the Orioles games with Michele wearing his "Howard Is My Beer Man" baseball hat. Whether it was in Communications or outside the office, Bob was always great company. I will sincerely miss this great dispatcher, dear friend and gentle soul. Rest in peace my old friend.
