“ When people say it doesn't take blood to make you family, Grandma Ruby showed Tommy and me the true meaning of that.

You didn't have to, but you did. You loved us so unselfishly and always welcomed us as if we were your own.

I'm going to miss you so much — your spunk, your independence, your energy, and the love you had not only for us, but especially for your children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. And I can't forget your love for dancing.

You truly were one of a kind, and I am so thankful and grateful for the many years that you and your family shared with me.

I feel so honored to have been by your side during your last couple of days and to be there to see you off.

I want to share my deepest condolences with the Padgett family for the loss of such an amazing woman. Thank you all for sharing your mom and grandmother with me and Tommy.

We love you!

“Family isn't always blood, it's the people in your life who want you in theirs: the ones who accept you for who you are, the ones who would do anything to see you smile and who love you no matter what.” ~Maya Angelou.

“ I didn't meet Ruby until my daughter, Kaye, married one of her sons, Johnny. Although I didn't see her that often, she would be at family functions that I attended and then we would "catch up". It was quite obvious that she loved being around her family, and she had a BIG family. They will miss her, as will I until we meet again. God bless your soul. Love you.

Ruby was a friend to all that she met. I knew her from the time she moved into this apartment building, which I think might have been nearly 20 years. A number of years ago we could be at the puzzle table and chatting away over whatever came to mind. Definitely good company. Her family gatherings I think were the light of her life, lots of gatherings I recall. My daughter always got a hug from her, as she was fond of Ruby also. Love to you Ruby, no more pain and fly high sweet lady. Missing our friend! Doris Summers
