“ Wow! I have so many awesome memories I can't narrow it down to just one! She was the most amazing mom and best friend anyone could ever ask for! I miss you more than any words can ever express but I know you are not suffering any more and all of your sisters were waiting for you!! I'm sure y'all are having a good time being all back together

“ Use to love when Mom & all us kids would gather together in the living room, play old records on the record player - dance around & laugh at each other til our stomachs hurt!

“ Loved spending time with her @ holiday get togethers, cookouts, dinners or just an unexpected drop by visit. She always made you feel welcome & loved with her kind words & gentle smile. Especially glad her daughter Karen & I were lucky enough to have her & Jim attend our wedding in Jamaica. Was great to see them both relax, have fun & unwind for a while! Thanks for all the love and great memories you gave me, they will live on forever! R.I.P. & light up the heavens with your smile. 😊

“ Sweet Aunt Sally...the best memories are sitting around Granny's table getting ready for the family reunion. We all had our jobs -- cooking, washing dishes, peeling eggs. The best part was all the stories of times past! I will miss you more than you know! Granny was there waiting for you, I know you all had an amazing family reunion in heaven! Love you always. Bobbi

“ My mom was a very avid reader. She always did her reading after everyone went to bed and it was late at night. One of her favorite authors to read was Stephen King. It never failed that one of us kids would get up late at night, for whatever reason, and would walk into to kitchen and say "Mom". She would jump and look like a cat with its claws in the ceiling because we about scared her to death all the while she was fussing at us about not making any noise when we walked in the room. She didn't find it very funny but us kids as usual found it hilarious.

“ One of the funniest memories i have from my childhood was my Mom;s reaction to being nose to nose with the neighbors Great Dane, Honcho, when she went to get out of our Pinto station wagon. What a hilarious sight that was.
