“ The memorial service was lovely. Stephen, the "cat whisperer"...how do I even begin to describe him...a delight & an aggravation, all in the same 5 minutes!; and I loved him dearly. We pretty much grew up together; our two families were--and are still--very close. LOTS of visits, games, eating, singing, animated discussions & just plain goofing around, for hours many times....especially at Christmas. Fun times! And then life interfered & we all went in separate directions, but we still kept in touch. Whenever I saw Stephen, we'd just pick up where we left off...he never changed. I know he had his life challenges, but I love what the minister said: "...he lived his life well and on his own terms..." A great summary. Stephen was intelligent, he knew his music, and just about anything you could ask about movies; he was well versed (even in my favorites--English literature & history--which was amazing to me!) I know it's going to be difficult for our families to adjust to life without him...but in a way, Stephen will always be with us...he "lives" in our hearts & memories! LuvU

“ I worked with Steve at Nordstrom & I went with him to many country music concerts. We loved talking about our cats. Also, I took Steve to his first Orioles game. I didn't stay in touch with him very much after I left Nordstrom and for that I'm sorry because he was a great guy and a great friend. I will miss you. Jill Mountjoy

I have very fond memories of my visits with the Grimes family, W whether it was around a dinner table or in a chance passing. There was always laughter and love, and I know Stephen felt that with his loved ones and friends. It was a joy to be a part of it, when I was invited. Stephen also showed up at an event supporting my niece and I so appreciated it. Prayers of peace for those left behind, and we all will rejoice one day in heaven. God bless.

“ I worked with Steve at Nordstrom Distribution Center for many of those 25 plus years! He always had a story to share with me! We shared a love of cats!!! He was one you could always count on. Never said much to most people unless he knew you well but when he did he made them laugh!! He will be greatly missed!!! May you rest in eternal peace.

“ I worked with Steve at Nordstrom until I left about 11 yrs ago. I considered Steve a dear friend. I had seen him a couple of times in the waldorf walmart, the last time I seen him there we must have talked for an hour. So sorry to hear of his sudden passing. My thoughts and prayers are with the Grime's family. Renee Young-Howard
