“ There are two things about Steve that I’ll never forget and always admire. He had a phenomenal memory and the ability to make friends. Whether wandering around Bradywine, Urbanna, or even Virginia Beach Steve amazed me by striking up a conversation with friend or stranger and within minutes could recall the name of an acquaintance, event or experience that they shared in common. Steve had a full but short life so there are many people, friends and family that will miss Steve’s friendship including those that didn’t yet get the chance to meet him. – George Elliott
