“ Mom was a very strong yet kind and gentle woman. Her sense of humor never faltered and her smile would light up the room. She was sweet and ever-faithful to her Lord but she wouldn't hesitate to speak her mind. She was the queen of greeting cards. If you were a family member or friend, near or far, you'd get a birthday, anniversary, get well or whatever card was appropriate. I believe there's still a stack, already addressed and stamped, that need to be mailed. If you get one, don't be surprised. She loved flowers and all animals but especially her cat, Jinx. She loved birds and was so concerned that they weren't immediately using the new birdhouse we'd recently put up. (I want to give a shout out to the ambulance drivers who wheeled her into the yard to see the new birdhouse before taking her to the Hospice House. Thank you.) She loved her doctors, nurses and aides. She had a little notebook to keep track of their names and dates and procedures she'd had. Above all else she loved her family and was concerned about our well being. She didn't want to be a burden and I hope we convinced her that she never ever was. I was so very fortunate to be able to spend so much time with her over these last years. I will miss her every day for the rest of my life.

Awww Kathy nice tribute. I just learned of your Mom's passing from Tracey H. Memories of hanging at your house in the teen years. I remember sitting out front in the lawn chairs with your parents chatting. Rest in peace Lady.
