“ Wow, Sue & Laurie said my thoughts exactly. Yes I have sat on the fence (don't have a pool ladder anymore) with what to say. Decided I would also speak to you knowing that you would be reading it. Yeah I know I am not generally at a loss for words and have an unfiltered mouth when it comes to talking. How many times did you talk me down also? To many times to count, but was so glad that you were there. We went through some crap together but made it through. Lots of great memories to hold on to and think about and make me laugh still. So sorry that you had to go through this alone but know you are in a better place and Kyser met you at the Rainbow bridge. You know me I look and see signs everyday, good and bad and give thanks for them. Well after finding this about two weeks ago and sitting in church saying a pray for you, I lost it. Yes, I then realized that you are still looking after those you cared so much about. I will never be able to hear the song "Lean on Me" again and not get choked up. I know that was my sign from you and hope the other ladies have seen the signs that you have sent saying that you are okay and we will be too.

God Bless you till we meet again

“ Tom,
My heart is broken...
You just slipped away from me.
When I didn't hear from you, I had an awful feeling, and my heart shattered when I found out you were gone.

You are and always will be my best friend.
You helped me more than I can ever tell you.
You were a friend first and foremost, no judging.
You were my confidant, always willing to listen, to offer a kind word, or advice when I needed it most.
You stuck with me through all my ups and downs.
You made my life a much happier place to be.

Even with all the miles between us, we shared a special bond that I will treasure forever. I only hope that I did the same for you.

MIKE: Tom always talked about you, please know how much he loved you and how much he appreciated all you did for him and how you were always there for him.

Tom: I so miss you....RIP my friend, with your family and safe in God's
loving arms. You will never ever be forgotten.

Love you so much,

Sue

So many years talking with you everyday, There is an empty void in each morning now.

You had a heart the size of Texas, always there when I needed a friend
One of the people who truly touched my heart in the world.*

Rest In Peace my dear friend. You are so missed. I love you and miss you so very much.
