“ Tyler was a wonderful friend to my fiancée 's sons. We we blessed to have him spend part of this past Christmas season with us. He helped us to decorate the Christmas tree and said it made him feel so much like family. He cried when we gave him a Christmas gift though it wasn't much just a small token to show we cared. Our thoughts and prayers are with his family in this most sorrowful time. My prayer is that these youngsters can get hold of what these drugs will do to you and the family you leave behind. God bless and keep you Tyler.

“ Tyler, everyone who knows you is feeling deep loss. The only comfort we take is that you are at our Lords side and in the arms of your dad (Charles James Coghlan) and with Jesus. I am so proud of you for giving life to others from your tragedy. Organ donation is a selfless thing to do and I'm sure your dad guided you to give the gift of life just as he guided me to do the same. We will love and miss you always, you fought the good fight and made us all proud by beating the disease that is an epidemic in our country, in the end you stumbled and thats ok, God forgives and lifts you up to heaven where you belong now by our lord and saviors side your daddy's side. Say hello to my beautiful brother, some day we will all meet again. Your cousins who think of you as a brother are all heart sick. Ryan, Cameron Austin and Connor and myself Your Aunt Rene'. We will always love and miss you.

On the Obituary they left out your Aunt Tina and Aunt Sarah and Uncle Timmy Baroody. So sorry about that, we are all in a fog trying to cope with losing you.

Gran and Grandad Coghlan raised you right and were always there for you. WeRyan,Cam,Austin and Connor at times all stayed together and other times we had separate pursuits but we all have the deepest love for one another, never forget how much you are loved here on earth. We always all returned to Gran and Grandad Coghlan for the holiday celebrations.

Your mom Kari and Stepdad Kevin along with your brothers Tristin, Tucker, Toby and sister Emma are all heartsick too. Tyler, you were loved by so many. Your Grandma Pam and Pop Jeff also loved you so very much.

*Always and forever, your are alive in our hearts,
Aunt Rene'*
